

Call for papers:
Human and Cultural Values Research

Values Impact Forum
22-23 February 2018, Perth, Australia

www.valuesimpactforum.com.au

This international conference provides a forum for scholars, businesses, educators, and government to engage in robust discussions about how personal and cultural values relate to important social issues.

The Plenary addresses will be given by Professor Shalom Schwartz on the study of human and cultural values. This year the Forum will focus on four major themes:

- (1) Values and the socialisation of children (Keynote: Prof Ariel Knafo-Noam)
- (2) Values and consumer behaviour (Keynote: Prof Julie Lee)
- (3) Values and global public opinion (Keynote: Profs Rory Fitzgerald & Jan Cieciuch)
- (4) Values and giving (Keynote: Dr Joanne Sneddon)

Each theme involves (1) an internationally renowned keynote speaker, (2) presentation of current research by selected delegates, and (3) a discussion with a panel of experts on research priorities.

Delegates who would like to present their research at the Forum should submit a research abstract by email. Submissions should have “Values Impact Forum” and the targeted theme (see above) specified in the subject line, and (2) an abstract in word format (maximum 500 words). Submissions should be sent to VP-able@uwa.edu.au.

Abstract submissions close: Friday 5th January 2018

Decisions will be sent by email to the corresponding author on Friday 12th January. In some cases, where funding is dependent, delegates may request an earlier decision date in their submission email. Authors of accepted abstracts will receive the early bird rate for the forum.

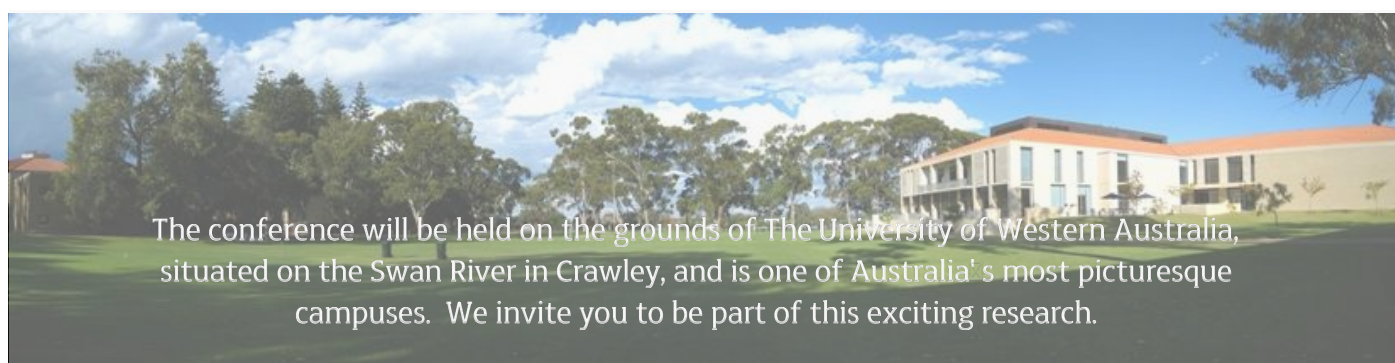

All accepted abstracts will be published on the Centre for Human and Cultural Values website and, where permission is obtained, videos of research presentation will be made available on this website for Forum delegates (www.whatdowevalue.com.au).
